13. APPENDIX 1
CREATIVITY SURVEY

This survey aims to identify a number of people's own ideas about several aspects of creativity. For each of the questions I would like as broad a range of responses as possible. There are no right or wrong answers. Please attempt all questions. Any clarification of the questions can be addressed to myself since I will remain in the room during your completion of the survey.

Your responses will be incorporated into a larger questionnaire for use within a PhD project. Your responses will remain anonymous and no details that could trace your responses back to you will be printed in the thesis. By completing the questions your consent to participate within this study is assumed to have been given.

Many thanks for participating.

Question 1.

List a maximum of 10 adjectives to describe the term creative.
Within this questionnaire a creative product is defined as anything that is produced/ made by an individual that you would judge to be creative.

Question 2.

Who do you think decides whether a product is creative? Please give as many suggestions as you feel are relevant.

Question 3.

What aspects/characteristics of a product make it creative?
Question 4.

Please list all the personality traits/characteristics that you believe are common in creative individuals.
Adjectives to describe the term creative:

- Constructive
- Inspiring
- Artistic
- Thoughtful
- Original
- Developmental
- Developing
- Upcoming
- Positive
- Brainstorming
- Uplevel
- Productive
- Imaginative
- Responsive
- New
- Clever
- Artistic
- Progressive
- Talent
- Skilful
- Open-mindedness
- Broadness
- Touchy
- Innovative
- Clever
- Quick
- Bright
- Problem-solving
- Made
- Built
- Constructed
- Produced
- Ingenious
- New
- Art
- Innovation
- Evolution
- Imagination
- Fresh
- Inventive
- Colourful
QUESTION 2

Who decides whether a product is creative:

- People who use the product
- People who sell the product as a commodity
- The individual who created the product itself
- A group who are thought to be influential e.g. academic elite
- Those involved in the development of the product
- The person who creates something
- The people who have any sort of relationship with the product
- No-one – the product is creative because it exists
- Public
- Media
- Management
- Supervisor
- The creator
- User
- People who are at a certain level
- People who are closely involved in the same kind of product/sector e.g. juries at a film festival or beauty contest
- Nobody – any new product in the market or wherever is a creative product. New means that nobody has made it before. It doesn’t matter whether it is a good or bad product.

QUESTION 3

What aspects of a product make it creative:

- The ability to be thought provoking
- Something that is individual and original
- Is able to inspire others that use it
- Having a specific use
- What is perceived as artistic
- Novel
- New
- Useful
- Pretty
• Artistic
• Solves a problem
• Originality in: Outlook/design, features, function, smell, combination of these
• Uses new ways to do old things
• Has surprises, not predictable
• Is pleasing, makes you smile
• Uses design/shape/colour/style to create new affect
• Style
• Shape
• Features
• Novel
• Different
• Interesting
• Arty
• Unique
• Shape
• Texture
• Sound
• Colour
• Ingredients
• Use of materials
• Situation
• Spontaneity
• The product must be new
• I’m not sure if there exists more or less creative products
• Whether a design has been followed or not. If it has been made without following a plan then it is more creative. Although the process of designing is also creative, but more structured.
• Creative products are generally more “arty”. Pieces of work such as literature, poetry, paintings, drawings, sculpture, etc are creative.
• A product as a whole can be judged as creative. Therefore all its characteristics make it creative. I don’t think any one aspect of a product makes it creative.
• The exploration of the final piece by the creator makes it creative.

QUESTION 4

The personality traits that are common in creative individuals:

• Artistic
• Intelligent
• Originality
• Resist the norm
• Thoughtful
• Experimental approach
• They set goals and work towards them successfully
• They are involved in art
• They produce culture
• They create inspiration
• They produce a product that has a purpose and is useful in someway
• Artistic
• Thinkers
• Scientific
• Intelligent
• Enthusiastic
• Single minded (sometimes)
• Persistent
• Wild
• Non-traditional/non-conservative
• Do not fit into the routine daily life style easily
• Questioning
• Observing
• Researching
• Enquiring
• Artistic
• Has feminine side
• Considers things deeply
• Interested in design and function
• Problem solver
• Innovative
• Questioning
• A bit dotty (can be distracted easily)
• Temperamental
• Thoughtful
• Depressive (?)
• Autonomous
• Serene
• Open-minded
• Like to improve things
• Dreamer
• Idealistic
• Like to learn
• Open-minded
• Non-scientific
• Passionate
• In touch with their feelings
• Colourful
• Talented
• “Good eye”
• Not average
PILOT STUDY LETTER

Thank you for agreeing to participate in the piloting of this questionnaire. Please attempt all relevant questions. There are no right or wrong responses to any of the questions. Whilst completing it I would also like you to consider the design of the questionnaire itself. This may include how easy it is to complete, the phrasing of the questions, aspects that should be included or removed, and any other areas in which it could be improved. Please write these comments down and I will make an appointment to discuss these with you.

Your responses will remain anonymous. By completing this questionnaire you will be assumed to be giving consent to participate in this pilot study.

Your honesty is appreciated.

Yours faithfully,

CREATIVITY

The next part of the questionnaire looks at the role of creative activities in your life.

10. The term creativity means different things to different people. I am interested in what it means to you. Remember there are no right or wrong answers. Please list below a maximum of 5 words that you would use to describe the term creative.
11. How creative do you consider yourself to be?

I am creative the majority of the time [ ]
I am significantly creative [ ]
I am somewhat creative [ ]
I am slightly creative [ ]
I am not at all creative [ ]

12. Of the time you spend in each of the following activities, what approximate percentage of that time do you spend in being creative?

Work _____%
Hobbies _____%
Family life _____%
Study _____%
Other _____% Please state ____________________________

13. Consider the following list of people. Identify those groups that are relevant in your life and rate the degree that they would consider you creative on a scale of 1 to 5, where 1 = not creative, 3 = somewhat creative, and 5 = extremely creative.

Family [ ]
Friends [ ]
People at work [ ]
Academic staff at your place of study [ ]
Experts in your area of work [ ]
The general public [ ]

THE CREATIVE PRODUCT

This section of the questionnaire considers creative products. By product I mean anything that someone makes and not just something that is for sale. There are a number of definitions of creative products in the literature. However, for the purposes of this questionnaire I am interested in your personal interpretation. Therefore, please consider a creative product to be anything that you would judge to be creative.

14. Please identify, by ticking the boxes, the 5 most important aspects that you feel make a product creative.

- It communicates ideas and/or emotions
- It is logical
- It stimulates an emotional response
- It reflects something of the creator
- It is inspirational
- The combination of its physical features
- It is attractive
- It is original
- It is surprising
- It is understandable
- It provokes interest
- It is complex
- It solves a problem
- It is useful
15. Please consider which of the following people decide whether a product is creative and then rate those people you have identified as to how valuable you would consider their opinion to be by placing a number in the relevant box. Where 1 = most valuable.

The person who makes the product (the creator) [ ]
Tutors/teachers of the creator [ ]
People at the creator’s place of work [ ]
The people who use/view the product [ ]
People who make similar products [ ]
Friends of the creator [ ]
No-one [ ]
The people who sell the product [ ]
The media [ ]
The creator’s family [ ]
Other [ ] Please state ________

THE CREATIVE PERSON

I now want to consider individuals who are considered to be highly creative within society. Whilst each person is an individual with a wide variety of personality traits there are certain traits that are considered to be characteristic of highly creative people. However, what I am interested in is your ideas of the types of personality characteristics that are likely to be found in very creative people. As for the other questions there are no right or wrong answers.
16. Please rate the degree that you think each personality trait would be likely to be found in a very creative person.

17. Where did you hear about this study?

Once you have completed questions 1 to 17 please could you complete the last set of questions over the page.
You are about to read a series of phrases describing people’s behaviours. Please use the rating scale to describe how accurately each statement describes you. Describe yourself as you honestly see yourself, in relation to other people you know of the same sex as you are, and roughly the same age. Remember that the study is completely anonymous.

18. Please read each statement carefully and then insert one of the following responses into the corresponding boxes.
1 = very accurate, 2 = moderately accurate, 3 = neither accurate nor inaccurate, 4 = moderately inaccurate, 5 = very inaccurate

Tend to vote for conservative political candidates
Believe in the importance of art
Do not like to learn about science
Tend to vote for liberal political candidates
Avoid philosophical discussion
Do not enjoy going to art museums
Like making things with my hands
Am not interested in abstract ideas
Do not enjoy going to museums of science or technology
Do not like art

Please check that you have answered all the questions.

Thank you for your participation.
Please read each of the following statements carefully and then indicate, in the boxes next to each statement, the response closest to your opinion using the following scale:

1 = Very true, 2 = somewhat true, 3 = somewhat untrue, 4 = very untrue, 0 = Not applicable. Please be as honest as possible with your responses.

Please indicate whether you are: Male [ ] or Female [ ] by placing a cross in the appropriate box.
My next study will require a small number of volunteers. It will take up more of your time than this questionnaire and so participants will be given a small gift upon completion of the tasks. If, in principal, you are interested in participating in this further study then please write your name and at least one of the following; address; telephone number; or email below so that I may contact you. Completing this section does not commit you to participate but simply indicates that you may be interested in doing so and you therefore agree to be contacted by myself with further details of the next study.

I would be interested in participating in the next study.

Re: CREATIVITY STUDY

First of all I would like to thank you for completing and returning the Creative Behaviour Questionnaire. I am now contacting you since you expressed an interest in participating in my next study on creativity. For this study I am interested in people who possess a variety of creative skills and abilities, from those who see themselves as very creative to those who think that they have very little creative ability.

If you agree to participate in this study I will first of all ask you to complete a personality questionnaire (which I will send to you) and to write a brief description of yourself. Then I will invite you to come and make something from a collection of art and craft materials that I will provide after which you will be asked to complete a general intelligence scale. It is difficult to estimate how long this will take you to complete. However, I will place a time limit on the making of the artwork of 1 hours since otherwise some people may want less than quarter of an hour whereas others may want to take the whole day! It is of course up to you as to how long you will take within that 1 hour time period. The questionnaires and written piece again will vary in the time they take depending on how much time you choose to spend on them however they should take no more than an hour all together and possibly a lot less. Upon completion of the tasks described you will be paid £20. Drinks and biscuits will be provided during your participation.

I plan to use the pieces of art from this study and your description of yourself in a further project. However, I can assure you that the artwork you make, your responses to the questionnaires and the piece you write about yourself will all remain anonymous and no personal details that could identify you will be included in the research or my completed thesis. Furthermore, your data will only be used for research purposes and will not be passed on to a third party. If at any time during the experiment you decide that you no longer wish to participate then you can inform me, and any questionnaires or artwork that you have already completed will be destroyed. I will however be unable to pay you for your participation.

The study will take place at Walton Hall campus in Milton Keynes. When you contact me we can arrange a time for you to come in that is mutually convenient. I hope to start this project in June 2004.

A summary of the results of this project will be available on The Processes in Collaboration, Communication and Creativity Research Group (PC3) website at http://www.open.ac.uk/socialsciences/pc3/ in November 2004. I hope that those of you who choose to participate will have fun doing so. If you have any queries or concerns that you would like to express before making a decision then please do not hesitate to contact me by email or at the address below.

19. APPENDIX 7 - PERSONALITY SCALE

On the following pages there are some phrases describing people’s behaviours. Please use the rating scale at the top of the next page to describe how accurately each statement describes you. Describe yourself as you generally are now, not as you wish to be in the future. Describe yourself as you honestly see yourself, in relation to other people you know of the same sex as you are, and roughly your same age. So that you describe yourself in an honest manner your responses will be kept in absolute confidence. Please read each statement carefully, and then place a cross in the box that most closely corresponds to how you would describe yourself for that statement.

ARTWORK

I would like you to make something from the materials available that expresses something about yourself. When you have finished I will ask you what you were trying to communicate.

Please feel free to use as many of the materials as you wish. I cannot however provide you with any more materials than are already on display. Due to practicalities please do not let what you have made exceed 45cm³.

You have a maximum of 1 hours. Within this limit it is of course up to you how long you take. Once you have finished, or should you have any further queries, please phone me on extension 54559.

Many thanks for your participation. I hope that you enjoy being involved in this project.

I am a research student in the psychology discipline at the Open University working on my PhD and am interested in people’s ideas about creativity. For this part of my thesis I want to try and understand how people view different pieces of art and the sort of image that they build up of the artist. The attached questionnaire therefore attempts to tackle these questions.

The questionnaire should take approximately 30 minutes to complete. When completing this questionnaire please answer all questions. There are no right or wrong responses so feel free to answer as honestly as possible. Please do not discuss your answers with anyone else. It is your individual responses that I am interested in.

Please note if you are male then you need to view the artworks made by the females. If you are female then you need to view the males’ artwork.

By completing and returning this questionnaire and signing the consent form you will be assumed to be giving consent to participate in this study. Your responses will remain anonymous and no personal details that could identify you will be included in the research or my completed thesis. Furthermore, your data will only be used for research purposes and will not be passed on to a third party. If at any point you no longer wish to continue with this study then you are free to stop.

Once you have completed the questionnaire please seal it in the envelope provided and place it in the box marked “art product questionnaires”.

I would like to thank you in advance for your participation and hope that you will enjoy filling out the questionnaire. A summary of the results of this project will be available on The Processes in Collaboration, Communication and Creativity Research Group (PC3) website at http://www.open.ac.uk/socialsciences/pc3/ in March 2005.

FITNESS INDICATOR QUESTIONNAIRE

The following pieces of art were all made by adults. Each person was given the same materials and asked to make something within 1 hour. They were told that whatever they made must not exceed 45cm³. None of the participants were professional artists.

If you are female then you should rate the artwork made by the men and if you are male you should rate the artwork made by the females. When rating each of these pieces of art I would like you to do so by comparing them with the other 5 pieces.

Section A

1. On the following scale please rate all 6 pieces of art as to how attractive you consider them to be by writing the number of the artwork along the line so that it corresponds to one of the numbers below the line, where 1 is the least attractive and 10 is the most attractive. You can have several pieces of art corresponding to one number.
2. On the following scale please rate all 6 pieces of art as to how interesting you consider them to be by writing the number of the artwork along the line so that it corresponds to one of the numbers below the line, where 1 is the least interesting and 10 is the most interesting. You can have several pieces of art corresponding to one number.

Section B

Please note down the number of the piece of art and then complete the following questions with reference to that particular piece (whilst comparing it to the other 5). At the end of the questionnaire you should have answered questions for 6 pieces of art. It is important to complete responses for all 6 otherwise I will be unable to use your responses in the analysis of the data. It is usually best to go with your “gut reaction” to these questions rather than to ponder on the responses for too long. Don’t forget there are no right or wrong answers. I am interested in your individual opinion so please do not consult with another person.

We often create an image of what a person is like based on inanimate objects associated with that person. For example, the type of car a person drives or the sort of coat a person wears can cause an image of what the individual is like to be conjured up in our mind before we meet that person. Therefore, I would like you to think about what the person who made the art object you are considering may be like. To help you with this please answer the following questions. Again there are no right or wrong answers. Just go with your gut feeling.

Artwork Number _____

1. What, if any, emotions do you think the artist is trying to communicate through their artwork?

2. What, if anything, is the artwork communicating about the artist?
Please rate, in the boxes provided the following questions on a scale from 1 to 10, where 10 is the most attractive, creative, etc.

3. How creative do you think the person is who made the piece of art?  [   ]

4. How intelligent do you think the person is who made the piece of art?  [   ]

12. Please read each of the following statements carefully and then indicate, in the boxes next to each statement, the response closest to your opinion using the following scale:
   1 = Very true, 2 = somewhat true, 3 = somewhat untrue, 4 = very untrue, 0 = Not applicable.

People at work consider me to be creative
I am creative within my work
The academic staff at my place of study consider me to be creative
The general public would consider me to be creative
I am creative
I sell my own creative products
I am creative within my hobbies
I am creative within my family life
Experts in my area of work consider me to be creative
I make creative products
My family consider me to be creative
I am creative within my area of study
My friends consider me to be creative

Thank you for participating in this study. I hope you enjoyed taking part. Please put this questionnaire in the envelope provided and place it in the box marked art products questionnaire.
The aim of this experiment is to try and understand how people view different pieces of art and the sort of image that they build up of the artist. You will be asked to rate the artworks and the artists on various criteria and then to complete some demographic questions about yourself and information on your engagement in creative activities. Therefore if you decide to participate you will be asked to complete a questionnaire which will take approximately 30 minutes of your time. On completion of the questionnaire you should seal it in the envelope provided and place it in the appropriate box.

Your responses will remain anonymous and confidential and no personal details that could identify you will be included in the research or my completed thesis. Furthermore, your data will only be used for research purposes and will not be passed on to a third party. If at any point you no longer wish to continue with this study then you are free to withdraw at anytime.

If you wish to participate please read and then, if in agreement, sign and date the statement below.

I understand the nature of the study and am happy to proceed

Thank you for participating in this experiment. The following is a summary of the research question and rationale for this study.

In a previous study considering the "general population's" definitions of creativity it was found that 85% of participants considered the creative product to be communicating something about the creative individual. This may provide some support for the sexual selection hypothesis of creativity, as proposed by Geoffrey Miller, which states that creative products act as fitness indicators of the creative person. Thus, the creative product acts as an extension of the creative individual's phenotype and is thereby communicating information about their genetic fitness to the observers of the product. Hence, the more creative, intelligent, physically fit, etc, the creative person is the higher the quality of the product should be. Since people want their children to have the "best" genes then those creative people who make the highest quality products should therefore gain the most sexual partners thereby improving their reproductive success. If this is the case then it may help to explain the evolution of creativity in humans.

However, very little empirical work has been done to confirm or refute the sexual selection hypothesis of creativity. This experiment is one attempt to do so. The aim of the experiment is to identify whether creative products act as fitness indicators of the individuals who created them. Therefore, the analysis will consist of identifying whether the ratings for the artworks and the people who made them demonstrate any consistency and if there are any relationships to the scores previously gained for the "artists" on intelligence, personality and creativity. Furthermore, responses will also be considered in the light of the demographic and creative variables of the raters of the artworks.

Should you be interested in the results of this experiment, a summary will be available on The Processes in Collaboration, Communication and Creativity Research Group (PC3) website at http://www.open.ac.uk/socialsciences/pc3/ in March 2005.

If you have any further questions you can contact the researcher, Helen Keenoo, at h.t.keenoo@open.ac.uk

ARTWORK 6

Those who choose artwork no. 2:

- Obedient, trying to avoid interest
- That he's quite interesting, 'Could also have predicted' that as he thought this was what was expected of him.
- Love, care
- Art in context, condition

The artist is trying to communicate a sense of being trapped, though what is trapping him grows out of the theme of powerlessness.

The artist might feel like they have to be a certain way, though the issues for it might be unclear. Maybe it is some form of beauty that is trapping him and he can't view to let go.
26. APPENDIX 14

ARTWORK 1. WHAT IS IT COMMUNICATING?

WHAT THE “ARTIST” SAYS:

“The piece hangs suspended and contains further suspensions. The outer regular cage contains threads of 2 intertwined circles of black and white beads which represent the 2 opposing sides/faces within me – these are wrapped around a black cloth which contains…(?)

A further thread of black beads is mixed with mirrored discs – lots of inner reflection – there is one red bead – a spark of something. The thread each contain 13 beads – I was born on Friday 13th – unlucky for some!”

WHAT THE RATERS THOUGHT:

ARTWORK 4. WHAT IS IT COMMUNICATING?

WHAT THE “ARTIST” SAYS:

“It is based upon an organic swirling pattern of red. This is the human body. This is probably important as my main hobby is dance."
Raised above this are pylons with cascading beads like electrical charges. This is probably also to do with dance and song (another hobby) and the desire to communicate beauty and strength.

In an inward spiral there is a field of dark green with stars. This is my favourite colour and represents a walk through nature.

This leads in the centre of a spiral to a wire coil. This is God, a dynamic and positive force that can be known personally.

The silver ringlets on the black background represent the cosmos and eternity and the beauty of such concepts.

I feel that there is something Arabic about the picture, which surprised me, but I find that I like it.

WHAT THE RATERS THOUGHT:

Those who chose artwork no. 1

ARTWORK 6. WHAT IS IT COMMUNICATING?

WHAT THE “ARTIST” SAYS:

“This silver cube is me; it appears to be hard, angular, cold and metallic, but if you look carefully it’s filled with feathers, you can see them coming out of the seams. You would not know that it’s stuffed full of feathers.

This is like me as on a first meeting I can seem confident and single-minded, friends have said that I appear this way, intelligent and ruthless/dismissive.

When people get to know me they realise that I am not like this, but am self-doubting, full of kindness and a softee!

However, the cube isn’t really a cube or smooth metal, it is more haphazard than that, so perhaps I am trying to be these things but failing.
Also, the only way to know what’s inside is to tear it, and then it would never be the same again!"

29. APPENDIX 17

REASONS GIVEN BY RATERS FOR CHOSING WHICH "ARTIST" TO GO OUT ON A DATE WITH

ARTIST NUMBER1

- It is unlike any of the others, so is original. The person has obviously thought about the piece before rushing into making it, so they could come up with a fun worthwhile date.

- Because I am intrigued to the artist work, I like it and want to see the significance.

- Seems creative and interesting

- The artwork is interesting and 3D, the person may be interesting and have good skills.

- Stood out from all the rest

- Bright, intricate, interesting

- Pays attention to detail

ARTIST NUMBER 2

- Because he seems the most adventurous, in that he’s not afraid to express himself, even if that means his work looks child-like. I think that he would be very confident and outgoing

- My fave piece of artwork – like the face smile, lots of detail, interests me

- Because he seems to be someone very happy with himself and wants to have things going on in his life that makes it exciting and interesting

- Seems like they would be the most fun to spend time with. Wouldn’t take things too seriously etc. Can imagine that the date would be memorable

- Seem friendly and fun. Think you could have a joke with this person.

- I can feel that the artist must be really outgoing, funny person.

- He seems jolly and outgoing. Easy to be with.
ARTIST NUMBER 3

- I really like the picture, its peaceful and I would like to be with someone laid back

- Seems interesting freedom finder enjoys peace and quiet kind and sensitive

- Love of holidays, calm, paradise

- They seem fun and outgoing

- Interesting and imaginative

- Because I imagine them to be fairly laid back and chilled out. They would probably be fun to be with, and their idea of paradise is the same as mine.

- Seems adventurous with plane, also calm and balanced happy and fun with bright colours

- Find it the most intriguing. Like the simplicity and peacefulness of the picture.

ARTIST NUMBER 4

- They seem interesting and creative – someone who would be good to get to know

- They seem interesting, creative, not boring, dazzling full of ideas and things to do

- The artwork suggests that person would be fun and lively. Good sense of humour and overall a good personality!

- Seems interesting and intriguing. Open personality.

- Because I think they would be the most interesting and like me.

- Because I can imagine them being interesting and good looking

- Intriguing, mysterious therefore want to know more about his thoughts

- They appear the most fun, up for anything, takes risks

- Most colourful and interesting and attractive piece of artwork – suggests its owner would also be interesting and attractive
• Obviously very creative and interesting. I’d like to know why they had chosen that structure.

• Seem like they would be the most interesting/sociable person

• Interesting and attractive piece of art – might be an interesting and attractive person

• Most interesting personality would be spontaneous and creative in conversation

• I think that they seem interesting. The piece of art is creative which suggests that the individual would have an imagination. They also seem quite fun

• Their art suggests that they’re interesting and have many experiences to share in conversation. They appear ambitious, creative and individualistic but fair at the same time – qualities I admire. They seem to learn from their mistakes but can have a laugh about them as well. They seem honest.

• Artwork is interesting and imaginative.

ARTIST NUMBER 5

• He seems friendly and easy to get on with. Up for a laugh, but still has a sensitive side.

• Seem creative and imaginative with a good sense of humour.

• They seem outgoing and fun

• He seems open and friendly and the piece is blunt and bold

• Gut feeling! Like the style and design

• Creative. Taken time to create piece of art

• Creative, caring, seems interesting, like the style

• He may have travelled. His picture gives a sense of a fun person, who enjoys life and is a good communicator. He also seems to have a good imagination and a real feel for life.

• Like exact details and fit into the norms
I found the picture the most attractive

ARTIST NUMBER 6

• Because he would be the most interesting and I would be curious to know what made him do this piece of art

• He is someone I could empathise with, assuming that I interpret his work correctly. Two hurt, withdrawn people can take away one another’s hurt and neutralise it. It feels good to make an unhappy person at least happier than they had been.

• Intriguing, masculine, fun

I am a research student in the Psychology Department at the Open University working on my PhD. I am interested in the personalities of artists and their partners and how their different personalities may influence particular aspects of their relationship. The attached questionnaire therefore attempts to tackle these questions.

The questionnaire should take approximately 20 - 30 minutes to complete. When completing this questionnaire please answer all questions. There are no right or wrong responses so feel free to answer as honestly as possible. Please do not discuss your answers with anyone else. It is your individual responses that I am interested in.

Since I am in part testing a model that predicts patterns of sexual activity among creative individuals then some of the questions may be considered to be of a particularly sensitive nature. However, I would like to stress that all questions asked are relevant to the research and all responses will remain strictly confidential and anonymous. Please note that due to the sensitive nature of some of the questions this questionnaire should only be accessed by people aged 18 years and over.

By completing and submitting this questionnaire you will be assumed to be giving consent to participate in this study. Your responses will remain anonymous and no personal details that could identify you will be included in the research or my completed thesis. Furthermore, your data will only be used for research purposes and will not be passed on to a third party. If at any point you no longer wish to continue with this study then you are free to stop. To do this you may close your browser or go back and your data will not be saved.
I would like to thank you in advance for your participation and hope that you will enjoy filling out the questionnaire. A summary of the results of this project will be available on The Processes in Collaboration, Communication and Creativity Research Group (PC3) website at http://www.open.ac.uk/socialsciences/pc3/ in October 2005.

If you have any queries about this research you can contact me or Dr Dorothy Miell at the addresses and emails below.

Any other comments to this question:

16. What, if any, other creative activities do you engage in and to what level, for example, professional, hobby, etc? (Please list)
Section B.

17. For this question there are some phrases describing people's behaviours. Please use the rating scale to describe how accurately each statement describes you. Describe yourself as you generally are now, not as you might wish to be in the future. Describe yourself as you honestly see yourself, in relation to other people you know of the same sex as you, and roughly the same age. Remember that your responses will be kept in absolute confidence so please describe yourself in as honest a manner as you can. Please read each statement carefully, and then place a cross in the box that most closely corresponds to how you would describe yourself for that statement.

18. Again, for this question there are some phrases describing people's behaviours. Please use the rating scale to describe how accurately each statement describes your current or most recent relationship partner. If you are in more than one relationship at present please choose the one that you have been in the longest. Describe them as they generally are now, not as you would wish them to be in the future. Describe them as you honestly see them, in relation to other people you know of the same sex as they are, and roughly the same age. Remember that your responses will be kept in absolute confidence so please describe your partner in as honest a manner as you can. Please read each statement carefully, and then place a cross in the box that most closely corresponds to how you would describe your partner for that statement. Also, please fill this in on your own and not with the help of anyone else including your partner. If you have never been in a relationship please go to question 19.

Thank you for participating in this study. I hope you enjoyed taking part.
I am a researcher at The Open University, Department of Psychology and am conducting research into the personalities and relationships of UK artists. Anyone is eligible, whether amateur or professional, who produces art of any medium. All responses are gratefully received.

The questionnaire is available online and will take approximately 20 - 30 minutes to complete. The questionnaire is anonymous and confidential. Your name and address will not be stored and you will not be recontacted.

If you would like to complete the questionnaire please visit the study website at
