

Open Research Online

Citation

Larkin, Mary (2012). Carers research. In: Care and Compassion Week, 5-12 May 2012, De Montfort University, Leicester.

URL

<https://oro.open.ac.uk/41104/>

License

None Specified

Policy

This document has been downloaded from Open Research Online, The Open University's repository of research publications. This version is being made available in accordance with Open Research Online policies available from Open Research Online \(ORO\) Policies

Versions

If this document is identified as the Author Accepted Manuscript it is the version after peer review but before type setting, copy editing or publisher branding

DE MONTFORT
UNIVERSITY
LEICESTER

CARERS RESEARCH

LIFE POST CARING

THE POST-CARING EXPERIENCE

THE ROLE OF CARERS GROUPS DURING CARING AND POST CARING

- emotional, instrumental and informational support
- source of friendship during and after caring
- sense of belonging
- limitations (e.g. predominantly female)

CARERS AND PERSONALISATION

Personalisation means thinking about public services and social care and support in an entirely different way – starting with the person rather than the service. It requires the transformation of adult social care. Julie Jones CBE, Chief Executive, SCIE

- review of the existing evidence base available to the third sector about the impact of personalisation on carers

CARERS, SERVICE USERS AND PERSONAL BUDGETS

How does a personal budget affect the carer-service user dynamic ?

CARER EMPOWERMENT

- role of legislation

CARER EMPOWERMENT

CARER EMPOWERMENT

- carers movement
- "expert care partners"
- involved in professional training
- emphasis on supporting carers
- information and training for carers

CARERS SEMINAR SERIES

- 4 seminars in key locations
- presenters include leading academic researchers, early career researchers, carers, service users, voluntary organisations, representatives from government departments such as the Department of Health and Department for Work and Pensions, and postgraduate students
- identification of contemporary and future issues for carers
- review of the existing research evidence about the cost effectiveness of policy and health and social care interventions for carers and those they support
- establish the future agenda for carers research and the modus operandi required for its success and lasting impact
- focus will mainly be on the UK but the seminars will include international dimension